BRACELET SIZE GUIDE

Find your wrist size in three steps

1 Cut out the measuring strip.
Use the dashed line on the right as your guide.

2 Wrap it around your wrist.
Measure the widest part, usually at the joint, keeping the strip flat against the skin.

3 Read the number at the arrows.
That figure is your wrist size in centimetres.

Add one centimetre for a close fit,
two centimetres for a comfortable one.

CHECK THE SCALE BEFORE CUTTING

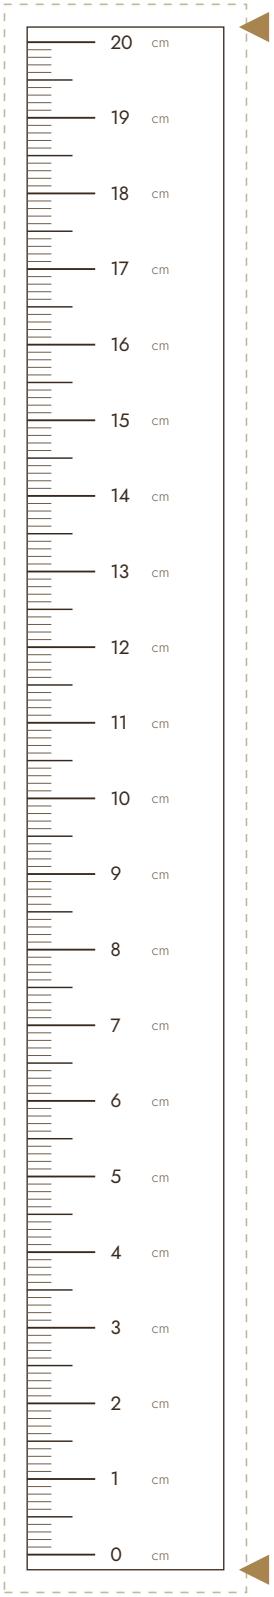

5 cm / 1.97 inches

Before printing, set Page Scaling to "None" in the print dialog.
Then place a ruler on the line above: it must measure exactly 5 cm.
If it does not, the printed sizes will be wrong.

There is no single international standard for bracelets: the right length is your wrist measurement plus a small margin. Close fit: wrist + 1 cm. Comfortable fit: wrist + 2 cm. If you fall between two sizes, choose the larger one.
